Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes, they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle wrapper, what his medicines are made of and of their curative value. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative value be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attending upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

GENERAL VERAND SHOT.

An attempt was made at noon yesterday in Paris to assassinate Gen. Brun, minister of war, but the assassin mistook his man and wounded Gen. Verand in the neck.

The gymnastic societies were giving a banquet at the Hotel Continental, and Gen. Brun was expected to attend. Gen. Verand was an invited guest, and as he, attired in full uniform, left his carriage to enter the hotel four revolver shots were fired at him. One shot struck him in the neck, and he fell, striking his forehead on the curbstone.

The man who did the firing was arrested, after rough handling by the crowd. He proved to be Robin Endelsi, an Algerian.

He carried two revolvers and a knife and also a photograph of Gen. Brun, for whom he had mistaken Gen. Verand. The latter's injuries are not serious, but the bullet narrowly missed severing the carotid artery.

Gen. Brun arrived at the hotel two or three minutes after the shooting.

Endelsi is man with a grievance. He was formerly secretary of the civil bureau at Bousaids, where 200 officers had been guilty of malversations to which Endelsi drew the attention of the minister of war. He obtained no reply and believed the officer sought to kill him because he knew too much. At the house where he lodged during the past six months he is reported as quiet and peaceable.

The excitement caused by the shooting was increased by the presence of King Manuel, of Portugal, in Paris, and it was at first reported that the criminal was a Portuguese anarchist.

PROPOSED CANONIZATION.

According to word from Rome, received at the Mother House of the Sisters of Charity at Emmitsburg, Md., the movement for the canonization of Mother Seton, who founded the order, is making most satisfactory progress. Monsignor Robert Seton, archbishop of St. Helipolis, and a descendant of Mother Seton, has returned to Rome from Spain after an extended visit to the latter country, and is taking a deep interest in the process of canonization of his ancestress.

Cardinal Martinelli, late apostolic delegate to the United States, is presiding over the Congregation of Rites, which is carrying on the investigations to establish the virtues of Mother Seton, and it is said that interest in the investigations is not confined to the American colony alone, but the pope himself has manifested a deep interest in the process.

If the character and virtues of Mother Seton, who founded the Order of Sisters of Charity and established the Mother House and St. Joseph's Academy at Emmitsburg early in the nineteenth century, are found so perfect as to justify her canonization she will be created the first real American saint and her shrine, at Emmitsburg, will be to Catholics the most venerated spot on the American continent.

BURNS TO DEATH IN CAGE.

Locked in a steel cage and isolated from the populated district of Orton Falls, N. Y., a man arrested there Saturday night on a charge of disorderly conduct, was burned to death early yesterday morning.

The authorities are trying to establish his identity, although they admit the task will be difficult.

James McGinnis, deputy constable, discovered the body yesterday morning. It was found in a heap behind the heavy steel door, which no doubt the man had tried vainly to open to flee from his flaming cot. The flames were confined within the small cage.

It is believed that after the man, who was well dressed and had jumped off a southbound train from Brewster, was placed in a cage, which is built inside of a small frame building, he tried to light a cigar and in so doing set the coverings on fire or ignited his own clothing. As the jail is more than a quarter of a mile from the nearest dwelling the cries for help of the prisoner were not heard.

WHOLESALE EVICTIONS.

The pitiful task of evicting the families of striking operatives of the Ludlow manufacturing associates in Springfield, Mass., from their tenements was undertaken Saturday under a guard of formidable force of deputy sheriffs, Springfield police and strong men employed by the manufacturing company. Many households were torn out by the roots, their members expelled from their homes and their goods thrown without ceremony into the slushy mud of the roadway on a bleak November day. Individual cases were scattered all over the village in such a way that anyone traveling about saw the destruction of homes on every side. Twenty-eight more families are to be evicted.

Officers to the number of about 300 were stationed everywhere for the sole purpose of quelling a disturbance that did not arise. Labor and capital had struggled in deadlock, both feeling they were in the right.

In some cases families gathered to eat their meals on the sidewalks, their former habitations having been boarded up.

HOLIDAY OPENING ANNOUNCEMENT

The Holiday Array of our great establishment heralds our splendid readiness for the approaching festive season, and in every department the brisk atmosphere, the alert salespeople, the red of the good cheer and the gay spirit which should dominate all shopping for the Xmas tide.

Our exceptional facilities for accommodating and serving the throngs of patrons form a part of the thoughtful consideration for purchasers which governs the executive department in its management of the store.

On every side of the building the numerous entrances render the lower floor easy of access, while the upper departments are brought within the convenient reach of the most hurried or belated shopper by the swift flight of the many elevators.

Our simple corps of floor managers and experienced salespeople will courteously and intelligently lend counsel and attention to purchasers and cheerfully answer the questions of those seeking information.

Attractive waiting and retiring rooms, package checking rooms, telephone and telegraph stations, postoffice, writing tables, as well as a cafe and Japanese tea room, on the sixth floor, offer both convenience and refreshment for the shoppers.

The economy of shopping is a point which we earnestly endeavor to impress upon our patrons, and it is our privilege to provide the maximum of satisfaction at a minimum of expense in purchase; this also applies to the expenditure of time and energy as well as money.

Our stock in every department is complete, fresh and conveniently arranged. Immense reserve supplies have been assembled to guard against depletion.
